Council Meetings

Tuesday, November 6th
7pm - Duchesnay

Tuesday, November 20th
7pm - Garden Village

Please submit agenda items by 4pm on the Thursday prior to the meeting to Freda Martel at 705-753-2050 ext. 1223 or by email to fredam@nfn.ca.

Construction Begins in Duchesnay New Daycare & Community Centre Breaks Ground

There's a bit more activity than usual lately in the area of Nbisiing Secondary School in Duchesnay. The long-awaited construction of a new daycare facility and needed community centre for our east end residents got underway on October 18th and is slated to be complete in July 2019.

With a similar design to the Nipissing Ojibway Daycare and Education Office in Garden Village, the building will house the daycare, as well as a hall and kitchen to host community events and smaller private functions (birthdays, small receptions) with a capacity of 100 people.

The overall footprint of the building will be 7,380 ft², with 4,443 ft² allocated to the community hall and 3,337 ft² for the daycare.

KEB Office & NFN Small Business Centre Opens

Last November, we announced that the construction tender for the Kinooomaadziwin Education Body (KEB) Head Office and Bineshii Small Business Centre had been awarded to Kenalex Construction through a competitive bid process.

Less than a year later, on October 2nd, the KEB celebrated the grand opening of their new office in the Bineshii Business Park in Yellek. The building includes office space for 10 KEB staff members and two regional representatives, and was designed to include five (5) commercial units for NFN businesses.

Commercial Space Still Available for NFN Entrepreneurs

There are still two (2) commercial units (1,000 ft² each) available for lease in the Bineshii Small Business Centre. NFN entrepreneurs who are looking to expand their home business or relocate from another office or retail location should contact Michael Harney at 705-753-2050 or michaelh@nfn.ca for more details about this great opportunity to locate your business on NFN land with highway exposure.

The Effects of Legal Cannabis

What it means for Nipissing First Nation

Federal legislation making cannabis legal across the country took effect on October 17th, but Ontario's legislation is not yet finalized and proclaimed into force. While the federal government has left regulation up to the provinces, First Nations reserves are considered federal lands, which leaves us with many unanswered questions about how cannabis will be regulated and controlled, and how we can manage the effects of legal cannabis within our jurisdiction using either Ontario's laws or our own laws created under our NFN Gichi-Naaknigewin.

In the weeks leading up to legalization, our senior staff attended meetings to learn more about how the new framework was going to roll out. Days before legalization, on October 15th, representatives from the Ministry of the Attorney General visited NFN to present Ontario's initial plan to manage legal cannabis sales exclusively through the online Ontario Cannabis Store at the outset, and then shifting to a private retail store model starting April 1, 2019. These retail stores will be overseen by the Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario and will have strict licensing parameters.

Retail Stores

Municipalities have until January 22nd to decide whether or not they will opt-out of cannabis retail stores operating within their boundaries starting on April 1st. First Nations, however, are not bound by a deadline to decide. Ontario's legislation offers provisions that allow for on-reserve delivery prohibitions; retail store opt-outs and approvals; and agreements between Band Councils and the Attorney General with respect to regulation, licensing and authorization of retail stores on-reserve.

Back in March, Chief and Council passed a motion prohibiting the issuance of any business licenses for activities related to the growth and/or sale of cannabis products. This is not a permanent ban, but a temporary measure until Ontario laws are in place and until we have consulted with our Debendaagziwaad about how we should proceed under the new legislation.

While cannabis may present economic opportunities for NFN and/or member-owned businesses, details around licensing, regulation, and even revenue and taxation models remain unclear. Above all, any potential economic benefits must be weighed against real health and social impacts.

Developing Our Own Cannabis Law

It is anticipated that Chief and Council will be developing a Cannabis Law under the NFN Gichi-Naaknigewin and NFN Land Code. This law will address a number of issues related to retail sales, the use of cannabis in public places, and many other concerns.

To inform the development of this law, community consultations will be held to find out how our citizens feel about cannabis, particularly in terms of private retail sales and business ventures. The Annual Community Meeting on Saturday, November 24th at Nbsiing School will provide an opportunity for us to share information with community members and gather some initial feedback that can be brought forward for consideration at the consultation meetings. Other opportunities to offer feedback will be provided via mail and online methods to reach as many people as possible.

Community Consultation Dates to Be Announced

We are targeting end of November or early December for consultations about cannabis. Your feedback will determine how we move forward under the new legislation.

Committee Members Still Needed

We are still seeking NFN members to serve on the following committees:

- Anishinaabemwin
- Culture & Pow Wow
- Economic Development
- Housing & Planning
- Lands & Bylaw
- Natural Resources

Note: the Education and Health & Social Services Committees are now full.

Committee participation is a great opportunity to lend your voice to the issue(s) that matter to you, and help provide valuable context to our leadership for decision-making.

Committee meetings are held once per month and members are paid an honorarium of $50 for each meeting they attend.

The Committee Application Form is available at www.nfn.ca or from the Administration office.

For more information, please contact Freda Martel at 705-753-2050 x1223 or fredam@nfn.ca.

Orange Shirt Day

Miigwech to June Commanda for coming to speak at Nbisiing’s Orange Shirt Day event. We would also like to say miigwech to the Lawrence Commanda Health Centre staff for providing our morning refreshments. This year, students created small orange t-shirts that were posted during the event to honour those who attended residential schools. The orange t-shirts we are wearing were designed by two of Nbisiing’s own students—Mallory Tepiscum-Bainbridge and Kai Commanda.

Thanksgiving Feast

Nbisiing celebrated Thanksgiving with a community circle. Miigwech to Tory Fisher for coming and speaking to our students during this circle and to those who came to join us for our feast, it was great to have so many community members present for the afternoon.

APTN

APTN came to Nbisiing this month and highlighted the amazing work being done daily in our community, with a focus on the Anishinabek Education System. Check out <http://aptnnews.ca/newscasts/> and watch the October 12th broadcast to view the whole piece.

October Moon Teaching

Nbisiing’s Wellness Lead, Amanda Bellefeuille, provided a lunch and learn session for students and staff that focused on Binaakwii Giizis- Fall Leaves Moon.

Amanda spoke to students and staff about:

- ◆ self-respect - honouring our spirit;
- ◆ living in awe of creation - seeing the beauty around us and honouring creation;
- ◆ and finally, gratitude – living thankfully.

We are so thankful for Amanda’s presence in our school and her ability to provide us with these important teachings and reminders.

Treaties Recognition Week

Treaties Recognition Week is celebrated the first week of November every year. It was introduced in 2016 to honour the importance of treaties and to help Ontarians learn more about treaty rights and treaty relationships. This year, Treaties Recognition Week is from November 5-9.

To help educate on treaties, the Anishinabek Nation in partnership with Nipissing University, will be hosting an educational information session where various treaty perspectives will be explored.

Freezing moon is the eleventh moon of Creation.

This is a time when the stars in the night sky of the universe are closer to Mother Earth and brighter.

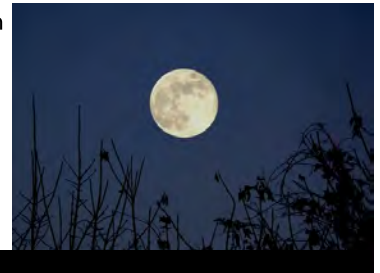

During the day the warmth of the sun is becoming more distant.

The clouds, wind and rains, are traveling across Mother Earth more frequently than any other cycle of the moons.

At this time all Creation is being transformed. The animals are gathering together. While their furs are changing color and becoming thicker. The fish are beginning to come closer to shore.

The birds are flocking together in their many formations.

All are praying for the long journeys to the sacred circle of the fasting grounds.

Miii- Nbaabaaban minwa Nmaamaaban gaa enaajmowaapan.

This story he told is what his family did to have food for the winter. They would go set nets and wait about an hour then go lift the net. There was so many fish back then. How he'd cleaned fish he said they scaled it and gutted it. They would put all the fish in big bins with coarse salt that lasted till spring to feed us for the winter. It was done secretly because the MNR was always after the people.

(Clarence Chevrier's family was considered "non-status anishinaabe" at the time by the government. They spoke the language fluently and they had missed the native registration dates set up by the government. This also happened to the Whiteducks, McQuaabies, Stevens and Larivieres). Miigwech.

Remembrance Day

Let's remember the soldiers who went to war
Let's remember the ones who came back
The people that got killed in action and that
Didn't come back
Let's remember the people of Nbisiing
And the one's that we know
And the people we don't know
And especially our relatives
Our great-grandfathers, grandfathers, and uncles
And all the ones who went to the world war
The first war in 1914-1918
and second war 1939-1945

Created by the children of Garden Village somewhere between 1989-1991 With Evelyn McLeod.

Beat the Silent Killer Carbon Monoxide Prevention

In Ontario, over 65% of all injuries and deaths due to carbon monoxide occur in homes.

If your home has a fuel-burning appliance or an attached garage, install a carbon monoxide alarm adjacent to each sleeping area.

For added protection, install a carbon monoxide alarm on every storey of the home according to manufacturer's instructions.

Alarm Locations

Take Action:

1. Install and regularly test carbon monoxide and smoke alarms.

Make sure YOUR household is safe from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Homeowners and landlords are responsible for ensuring their properties have working carbon monoxide (CO) alarms. This includes:

Testing:

- It is recommended that carbon monoxide alarms be tested monthly or in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions.

Batteries:

- Replace batteries in carbon monoxide alarms once a year or whenever the low-battery warning sounds.
- Know the difference between a low-battery warning and an emergency alarm – consult the CO alarm manufacturer's instructions.

Replace CO alarms:

- In accordance with the manufacturer's instructions.
- Know what the "end-of-life" warning sounds like – consult the CO alarm manufacturer's instructions.

Landlords:

- Landlords are responsible to ensure working carbon monoxide alarms are installed and maintained in their rental properties.
- The law requires landlords to test CO alarms in rental units annually and when the battery is replaced, changes are made to the electric circuit or a change in tenancy occurs. CO alarms must be tested by pressing the test button.
- The law requires landlords to provide CO alarm manufacturer's maintenance instructions to tenants.

Tenants:

- The law requires tenants to notify the landlord if the CO alarm is inoperable.
- It is against the law for tenants to remove the batteries or tamper with the alarm in any way.

Exposure to CO can cause flu-like symptoms.

If your CO alarm sounds, and you or other occupants suffer from symptoms of CO poisoning, get everyone out of the home immediately. Then call 9-1-1 or your local emergency services number from outside the building.

If your CO alarm sounds, and no one is suffering from symptoms of CO poisoning, check to see if the battery needs replacing, or the alarm has reached its "end-of-life" before calling 9-1-1.
