NFN is seeking a highly motivated and passionate individual with exceptional advocacy skills to join our dedicated team of Social Service professionals as a First Nation Representative. As a First Nation Representative, you will act on behalf of Nipissing First Nation children and families involving the First Nation's children and youth under the Child and Youth Family Services Act (CYFSA) in Ontario.

The First Nation Representative will protect the collective best interests of the NFN children and ensure a culturally appropriate disposition of the case. The intention of this position is to ensure all notifications from the Child Welfare Agencies are responded to and addressed within the mandated time frame while working within the administrative policies and procedures.

What you'll do in the role

- Develop strong working relationships with Child and Family Services, CAS agencies, and other service providers engaged with First Nation members locally, provincially and across Canada
- Connect families with appropriate prevention programs tailored to address the specific needs of children, youth, and families within and outside the community.
- Provide family support services that promote the culture and aspirations of the First Nation.
- Provide invaluable support to children during court proceedings, meetings with parents and caregivers, and interactions with Indigenous and non-Indigenous agencies and legal services.
- Advocate on behalf of members who reside in institutions.
- Familiar with terms of legal documents including Voluntary Service Agreements, Safety Plans, Temporary Care Agreements and consents.
- Facilitate and organize cultural revitalization activities involving both elders and youth of the community.
- Recruit and establish foster homes and volunteers within the community.

Employment Opportunity

- Liaise with other First Nation Band Representatives, Child and Family Service Agencies and Legal Counsel.
- Liaise with the First Nation Member families and service providers as necessary.
- Provide input and direction in case conferences, service planning with families including caregivers of the children.
- Provide knowledge, awareness and promotion of the First Nation's position and interests to courts, Children's Aid Societies, and other agencies.
- Compile all relevant case-related information and documentation.
- Liaise with community services and attend coordinated Case Management Conferences with all community services involved to monitor client's plan of care and progress; example: Wiidooktaadyang.
- Ensure assigned client files are maintained and updated on a regular basis.
- Prepare, respond to, and process legal documents as required.
- Engage legal counsel to support the preparation of court documents and to represent the First Nation in court on complex matters.
- Prepare, serve, and file additions or amendments to the Client's Plan of Care.
- Prepare for and attend settlement conferences to represent the First Nation's interest and the best interest of the child(ren).
- Oral and written presentations in court, as required.
